

Louisiana Staff Development Council's Academy IX Registration

"Coaching for Coaches: In-Depth Professional Learning for School-Based Staff Developers"

What is the Academy?

Academy IX is a 5 day learning opportunity designed for participants to learn, apply and debrief experiences with the facilitators and other coaches. This academy is targeted especially for school-based staff developers, coaches and individuals who are responsible for working with coaches. Join us as we apply the latest research on staff development, coaching and relationship building.

This in-depth 5 days learning opportunity focuses on skills, attitudes, and dispositions including:

- Principles of Coaching;
- Conducting a pre-conference, observation, and post-conference process;
- Communicating with others to build trust and positive rapport;
- Gaining "entry" into classrooms;
- Using a design tool for creating professional development plan;
- Using the NSDC Standards as a tool for improving professional development; and
- Understanding, supporting, & assisting individuals in the change process in order to improve teacher practice and student achievement.

You will network with colleagues from throughout the state and receive your certificate upon completing the final reflection!

The Louisiana Staff Development Council is an Affiliate of the National Staff Development Council. Academy IX facilitators are Amy Allen and Betty Kraft, experienced staff developers and coaches.
